Drinking No More Water During Days Than Usual, Whysall Says

...cial use of the Water Department of the Marion Water Co.

"The cause of the shortage is the fact that the supply of water is not sufficient to meet the demands of the consumers. It is impossible to establish a system of rationing which would be fair to all Marion residents, as they would be required to use water in their own homes to fill reservoirs of the Marion Lake Farms Co., which supplies

Fall Back on Auto

A check has shown that the residents have been using the mid-day over...

like temperature would fall back on the old family chariot to retreat to the country or the lake shore for air instead of twisting to crown the heat by driving a motor car.

An increase in water consumption between the summer months and the winter months, which can not especially be noted in the supply after the mercury hovers around the century mark.

About 2,500,000 gallons of water are consumed daily by Marion residents in the summer months, it is said. As opposed to approximately 2,250,000 gallons of water is used in the winter months.

This means that each person of Marion has an average of using nearly 50 gallons of water daily.

A decrease has been noticed in the use of water other than for ordinary purposes this summer. Officials of the water company say the cause of the drop to the increased rate put in effect May 1.

It also has been noticed that no longer in the residential district are the people acting against the time drag the hose from the side door of the house and sprinkle the lawn as the sun sets in the west.

The lawns, of course, do not suffer the heat from the lack of water but they do not get the same amount of water this summer they did in former years.

bank and with falsifying the condition of the bank.

Belknap was accused of aiding in the fraudulent issuing of a certificate of deposit and with aiding and abetting the misapplying credits of the bank.

W. J. Jones was charged with making false entries on the books, fraudulently issuing a certificate of deposit and with misapplying the credits of the bank.

Brinker Jones was charged on three counts with making false entries in the books of the bank and on one count with forgery.

The three Jones have been at liberty on bonds aggregating $70,000 since their arrest several weeks ago. County Sheriff Ed Martin's forty minutes after the grand jury made its report to arrest Francis while Belknap was taken into custody here.

Little Hope Held

The Yorkville Bank closed its doors May 1. State bank examiners early held forth little hope that any of the million dollars lost in the crash would be recovered.

The bank's officials speculated in West Virginia coal lands the latter numbers stated and after making loans into their undertaking were unable to raise sufficient additional funds to go through with their deal. Bank officials have declared it was not that if they were given opportunity to raise more money and carry out their project they would recoup all their losses.

Filibel Case Claim

Francis was a director of the bank. Belknap had no connection with the bank and was involved in the case through Francis and Jones. Belknap went to Cleveland with the bank officials when the became pressed for money, and helped them raise $70,000 on a certificate of deposit. The note signed by Belknap was held by the Guaranty Trust Co. of Cleveland. Belknap and the Jones refused to comment on their indictments today. Ralph Bryan, counsel for the Jones stated:

It is a pitiful case. I have no statement to make.

Francis served for eight years as congressman from the Eighth district and is among the most prominent men in eastern Ohio. Belknap, a practicing judge for 12 years, also is very prominent.

The five defendants will be arraigned as soon as they can be brought in, Judge Priestley's court attaches said this may be late today.

EXCURSION TO UNIQUE EVENT IS ANNOUNCED

Gallia County Homecoming and Annual Bean Dinner at Vinton Aug. 6

An extraordinary excursion to carry passengers to a unique event was announced today by J. E. Nelson, agent at the ticket office of the Erie R. R. depot here.

The excursion is routed from Ewington, through Marion, to Vinton, Gallia County, Ohio, over the Toledo

The occasion is the Gallia County Homecoming and Annual Bean dinner at Vinton on that date.

Two special trains will leave Marion for Vinton Aug. 6 to carry scores of Gallia County to Vinton for the big homecoming event. The first train will depart at 6:40 a. m. and the second at 10:30 a. m.

The return limit is set at Aug. 15, allowing all who purchase a round trip ticket a week's visit in any town along the route.

In addition to many attending the homecoming event, it is expected that many persons will take advantage of the special low rates offered to the Hocking Valley and visit friends in Athens, Logan and other points in that section.

Officials of the Erie Railroad Co. will be urged to have a night excursion on duty at the Mehaffey crossing in Mansfield, it was announced today by Mayor J. Earl Porte of that city. Investigation of conditions at the crossing has prompted the action.

When traffic over the crossing was [illegible] July 12, when a watchman was on duty, 41 machines and 202 persons crossed the Erie tracks at that point. During this time, nine Erie trains passed over the lines.

Excursions into northern Michigan from Toledo to Frankfort-Benzonia, over the Ann Arbor railroad, have been announced here for July 30, Aug. 6 and Aug. 13.

The train leaves Toledo at 7:30 a. m. and 10 p. m. on the journey into Michigan. Parlor cars and sleepers are furnished. A one-day limit has been set for the trips. Special low rates prevail.

Heavy shipments of live poultry, mostly springers, are passing through Marion daily from western points to New York and eastern markets. The shipments of poultry had been light until a few days ago when springers came into prominence. Many cars of poultry are carried over the Erie and Big Four routes.

It's simply amazing how much more the people of the land eat since they stopped drinking. In fact, restaurants have become almost as thick as were the saloons in the "good old days."

The criminal world has its weakness, of course, yet in some ways it is pretty sharp, so we suppose it would be worse than useless to hope it will kidnap some of our self-constituted reformers or self-admitted efficiency experts.

Solving the Crime Problem.

After submitting the system inaugurated by their chief to a test which has extended over a period of almost three years, the police authorities of San Francisco believe that they have solved the problem of checking and reducing crime, the effort of the system having been directed chiefly to the reduction of the number of murders committed by burglars, hold-up men, sneak thieves and similar violators of the law and to homicides generally.

The system was inaugurated when, in the fall of 1923, Chief of Police Daniel J. O'Brien issued an order to all patrolmen, plain-clothes men, payroll escorts, detectives and watchmen to protect themselves first, last and always; to permit no criminal or suspected person to get the drop on them, and to shoot immediately and straight in defending their own lives. To qualify his force to execute his order, he started a school in marksmanship, and those who were found incapable of coming up to the standard he required were placed, wherever possible, in positions where there was no occasion or demand for gun-play, or let out.

While Chief O'Brien did not, in so many words, order his men to shoot to kill, the underworld as well as the police force knew that that was precisely what he meant, and the result has been a marked decrease in the number of attempts to kill police officers and a similar notable decrease in the number of homicides generally.

It has been established that the majority of the murders in this country are committed by those surprised while in the commission of some other crime. The idea that, when a policeman came upon a man in the commission of a crime, the slightest aggressive movement by the criminal would cause the policeman to shoot to kill, seems to have thrown a chill into the criminal world of the Golden Gate City and resulted in a big reduction in killings as well as caused a falling-off in the number of burglaries, hold-ups and other crimes of a similar nature.

There were fifty-four murders committed in San Francisco during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1925, a record which lead to the inauguration of a number of plans to reduce homicides. For the year ended June 30, 1923, there were thirty-four such crimes, policemen figuring largely as victims. The next six months murders were reduced to ten. By the end of June, 1925, the crime percentage of all California had been reduced eight per cent, while the reduction in San Francisco with its population of over half a million was twenty-seven per cent.

The reduction throughout the state was largely due to the enactment of two laws, which are of interest in connection with San Francisco, as well as in reference to the criminal world. One is a law to the effect that any and every person who enters any building—and the law holds a tent to be a building—with the intent to commit a crime is guilty of burglary. The other is a law to the effect that any and every person who enters any building—and the law holds a tent to be a building—with the intent to commit a crime or to accomplish theft of any kind is guilty of burglary.

Writing in the Jefferson Independent, B. H. Dunn, to whom we are indebted for the facts herein regard of the other law, which is one of the most sweeping ever passed:

"In 1923 the California state legislature went even further and passed into law a bill forbidding the manufacture, importation, sale, gift, loan or possession of blackjacks, slingshots, billies, sandclubs, sandbags or metal knuckles within the state. The law further forbids the carrying of any explosive substance or any dirk or dagger upon the person, making such action a felony and prescribing imprisonment of from one to five years as the penalty. It also prohibits any unnaturalized foreign-born person, and any person who has been convicted of a felony, from owning, or having in his possession, any pistol, revolver or other firearm capable of being concealed on the person.

"Beyond this, the new law provides that any person attempting to commit a felony in California while armed with any of the weapons above mentioned, or with any other weapon which can be concealed upon the person, shall be punished on conviction for the felony, with an additional term of imprisonment of five to ten years for the first offense, such term to begin at the expiration of the term inflicted as punishment for the felony."

And then come the two closing sections of the law which Mr. Dunn says were passed over the protestations of sob sisters, sensation-seeking editors and other meddlers in the control and segregation of prisoners; two sections which contain the real teeth of the law, which we print in full.

"In the trial of a person charged with committing or attempting to commit a felony against the person of another while armed with any of the weapons mentioned in section one hereof, or while armed with any pistol, revolver, or other firearm capable of being concealed upon the person, without having a license or permit to carry such firearm, the fact that he was so armed shall be prima facie evidence of his intent to commit such felony.

"In no case shall any person punishable under the preceding sections of this act be granted probation by the trial court, nor shall the execution of the sentence imposed upon such person be suspended by the court."

Backed by a chief such as Chief O'Brien's order shows him to be, and fortified by the knowledge that the courts are restrained by law from nullifying their efforts, it is easier to understand how the police of San Francisco have been able to reduce crime twenty-seven per cent. The pity is that there are not more such chiefs and that the California law of 1923, does not obtain the country over. With such a law, or the fellow of it, in force in each state in the union, law enforcement would not be the travesty it has come to be.

London got all worked up recently over a temperature of eighty-one degrees. Wouldn't that jar you—with all the stuff they have over there to keep people cool!

"The worm will turn." The Pennsylvania railroad company has decided to prosecute to the limit of the law all motorists who, in the future, run into its trains and smash up its rolling-stock.

To our way of thinking, the strongest argument the modernists have against the theory that man descended from the monkey is offered by the fellows who drive their cars at high speed about the streets late at night with mufflers cut out and horns sounding. To accept the theory would be an outrage on the monkeys.

We do not imagine that anything we may say will influence it, but if the underworld is simply bound to decimate the press as the Fourth Estate apprehends, why can't it accomplish its purpose with the least possible damage to a great institution by starting in on the poets?

"Who knows but some day in the far future, possibly within the next generation," asks the Canton News, "it will occur to the people of the United States to put a stop to crime by punishing the criminals?" But would not such a course be revolutionary? And are we going to ignore utterly the feelings of the sob sisters and sentimentalists?

It is announced that Philadelphia is to be cleaned up some more, but it is hardly probable that she will be changed so greatly as to be unrecognizable in thirty visitors to the sesquicentennial.

A statistician thinks that the monthly payments on goods sold in this country on the installment plan amount to $500,000,000. If all feel about it the way we did once when we bought a $90 dictionary that way, we guess the place the late Robert G. Ingersoll said there isn't is right here on earth, all right.

Being one of the true aristocrats of the land, whose number is fast dwindling as a result of man's inhumanity to man and that not vitally interested personally in the rubber situation, we believe we could make up our mind to give the Philippines up a lot quicker that our old friend, Colonel Carmi Thompson who, being a business man, will naturally be inclined to think a bit about the possibilities the islands offer for commercial development.

Chicago's criminal world has at last got her goat. She didn't pay much attention when she learned that prisoners left and returned to the cook county jail at will, when she discovered that for bribes of $15 women were permitted by guards to spend the night with prisoners, when she learned that whisky and drugs were peddled by guards therein; but when a prisoner blew a hole in the prison wall with a bomb, she sat up and took notice. She conceded that that was the limit. If there's one thing Chicago won't stand for it's the wilful destruction of county property.

GOOD FOR WHAT AILS HIM.

To Eliminate Vocal Defects.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York. Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

"Children who can not talk, children and adults who stutter, lisp or whose speech has been affected by paralysis or other causes, will be given free treatment at the Georgetown university speech clinic."

This is what I saw in a Washington paper the other day. It will be welcome reading to many an afflicted mortal. It is an announcement which will lead to many cures, I trust.

Not to be able to speak distinctly, or to have a lisp impossible to cover up, is a real affliction. It is gratifying that intelligent and successful efforts to overcome these embarrassing defects are being made in every large city. Educational centers are not complete without provision for teaching of this sort.

It is wonderful what can be done for stammerers and others who have speech defects. It must not be taken for granted that no hope appears. No matter how bad the case, it is probable the trouble can be improved, if not entirely overcome.

Highly sensitive children who have slight defects may become worse and worse if permitted to do so. They grow embarrassed as they try to talk, and become less readily understood because the defect grows more pronounced every minute.

In a sense, blushing and stammering are similar. To overcome either, poise must be developed. But it is almost impossible to get into the right frame of mind and to acquire poise without special, individual instruction.

If an excited and irritable nervous system is founded on ill health, the first step towards recovery of the speech defect is to gain good health. With vigorous muscles and normal heart there will be clearness of thinking. With clear brain there can be the maximum of will power. With strength of mind and will comes the poise so essential to proper speech.

Stage fright is an exaggerated form of suddenly acquired speech defect. It takes training and practice to escape stage fright.

Training and practice under competent instruction will do wonders for the stammerer. Don't give it up as hopeless. It isn't hopeless. By perseverance you can gain confidence and make your tongue do its duty.

If you are afflicted, talk with your doctor and the head of your school system. You will find a means of cure.

Dr. Copeland will answer for readers of this paper questions on medicinal, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. Where the subject of a letter is such that it can not be published in this column, Dr. Copeland will, when the question is a proper one, write you personally if a self-addressed, stamped envelope is enclosed. Vagrant Verse.

SAY NOT.

Say not, the struggle naught availeth,
The labor and the wounds are vain,
The enemy faints not, nor faileth,
And 'as things have been they remain.

If hopes were dupes, fears may be liars;
It may be, in yon smoke concealed,
Your comrades chase e'en now the fliers,
And, but for you, possess the field.

For while the tired waves, vainly breaking,
Seem here no painful inch to gain,
Far back, through creeks and inlets making,
Come silent, flooding in, the main.

And not by eastern windows only,
When daylight comes, comes in the light,
In front, the sun climbs slow, how slowly,
But westward, look, the land is bright.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

A Polish professor in Posen by the name of Rosenheim knows thirty-six languages and 240 dialects. He is thirty-eight years old and has black hair. Your hair would be white if you had worked hard enough with your mind to learn thirty-six languages. The problem with most of us is to learn to speak one language in such a way as to make people understand. To set forth one's thoughts in a simple, orderly, understandable fashion is a difficult art. Few are willing to work very hard at it.

Rosenheim is like the man who said one day that he hoped there would be many different languages in heaven as he delighted in learning to speak new tongues. He thought with diligence at his command he could learn to speak them all.

Nothing is more interesting than to watch a new pendulum swing back and forth in the course of history. For awhile the world takes on steam rapidly. Nations proceed on the basis that one man is as good as another. Of course that is not true. After awhile the few get control. Then the masses overturn the few. After awhile that doesn't work and the one-man power begins. We see the dictator. Europe is familiar with dictators. She has seen them rise and fall throughout the centuries. Down comes the dictator and the people try to drive. No government is good government, but some governments are better than others. As man in the centuries becomes smarter he may be smart enough to devise a good government—one fair and just and workable.

If you live in the Middle West you will be glad to know that all signs point to a higher wave of good business—real prosperity. Business has not been so bad but it might be better. Experts, making a survey, agree that it is going to be better in the next three months. The wise way is to bet that it will. Make your plans with that conviction in mind. That will help bring the thing you want better than anything else—expert advice included.

Most of us will vote with Astor and against H. G. Wells. Wells, writing in "Cosmopolitan," says a modern woman is a beauty-mad creature with no individuality. Astor says Wells doesn't know what's going on in the world. He doesn't know what women are doing. Astor has the evidence. He says:

"Take the case of the modern women in England. Since women have been in the house of commons they have passed scores of measures that men have been working for years to get action on."

Any one who thinks woman is interested only in being beautiful is a poor observer of women's activities.

The observer with a sense of humor and a sense of justice must agree with Lord Birkenhead, London, when he figures that the Mayflower carried 185,000 persons. Make your own investigation among your New England friends and you will find the estimate conservative.

Today's Worst Story.

BY WILL ROGERS.

The worst joke I heard today was told to me by David P. Greenfield, of Southall, Middlesex, England. He is managing director of the Crown Cork Co., Ltd. Everything in England is always "Ltd." meaning limited. I have never yet found out what they are limited to, but they always say that; that and, "purveyors to H. R. H. His Majesty, the King."

Well, this fellow is really from Toronto, Canada, and an awfully nice fellow, and cast rock-making business is a terrible big thing. He told me that since prohibition in the United States their cork business had doubled twice over. He said he didn't know if they were eating the corks or what, but that he guessed it was because one cork never stayed in a bottle long. Over here a cory will stay in a bottle long. Over here a cork will stay in a the still to the drug store.

He told me a good Scotch story. It's short and the best one you ever heard: Over in London—the same as on Broadway, New York—they have a lot of big electric signs that change all the time, and they call them "Scottish Movies."—Copyright, 1926.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. M'INTYRE.

New York, July 22—One of the gloomiest piles of ancient masonry in New York is the Jefferson Market jail for women. It has stood for more than half a century, and for seven years has echoed with screams of miserable outcast women.

All the petty female offenders, bagged during the twenty-four-hour day, are trundled there in the Black Maria to await their various legal retribution. They come with hungry faces pearled in sweat from street brawls. They come twitching with drugs.

There are drunken old hags screeching gutter tirades. Young girls who beckon from doorways, impudently rouged and drenched with cheap perfume. Shoplifters, pickpockets and wrappered creatures of the red-light cabarets.

Decadent women are usually stolen in a crisis. They accept sentence with a sigh of sheer. Only first offenders are led off in hysterical wails. Old-timers have come to know hysteria gets them nowhere. And they assume an air of jaunty bravado.

The uniformed prison matrons are women whose sympathies seem never to have been aroused. They are human ballasts, cool and nerveless—steadying soul-sick emotions with a pat here and a soft word there. They have gazed at vice in its most hideous form and kept a balance.

In those moments of cataclysmic upheaval when first offenders are reft of self-control and led away to detention rooms, it is on the matrons' shoulders they sob out their grief. They soothe the mother sche that comes to weep, straying daughter facing prison.

The site of the tumble-down prison is at Ninth street and Sixth avenue. The surroundings seem to reflect the gloom of the prison. There are drab storerooms, prowling rats, baffled men, shawled women and other evidences of depressing squalor.

Up along the Westchester countryside an abandoned old farm house has been made over into one of those gaudy roadside taverns and bears the name of "The Creep Inn." It is to be hoped patrons do not leap out.

The Flatiron building—actually named the Fuller building—corner has long held a nation-wide reputation for being the windiest corner in Manhattan. In other days, when skirts were not as today, a bantering crowd could be found there on a windy day and employes of office buildings in the neighborhood often concealed binoculars in their desks. Those days are gone, and anyway, the corner is no longer considered the breeziest place in town. The windiest spot is the archway under the Municipal building near Brooklyn bridge. One pedestrian recently reported that a zephyr acquired such cyclonic proportions there that it actually blew a tie pin out of his scarf.

A Spanish restaurant on Columbus avenue offers "squid" on its menu. Nor did I know what it was until I looked it up in the dictionary, and that doesn't help much. Here it is: "Squid: Any ten-armed cephalopod having a long taper body, and a caudal fin on each side."

The Congo note in jewelry grows more pronounced, even at bathing beaches, where ponderous gold bracelets, anklets and chains around the neck fairly clank. One lady weighed 127 with her Wild-man-from-Borneo chains, and 122 without.

A Viennese artist declares the most beautiful view he found of New York was that of Trinity spire at dusk from the corner of Broad and Wall.—Copyright, 1926.

Twenty Years Ago.

This day was Sunday.

Russell Sage, the financier, aged ninety, died at his country home near Lawrence, Long Island.

Seven special officers were placed on duty to apprehend violators of the Sunday saloon-closing ordinance, and ten arrests were made the next day.

A bowling dog at Marion cemetery disturbed nearby residents.

Miss Ella Ewart and Frank Thomas received $100 increases in their pay at the postoffice, making the salary of the former $900 a year and that of the latter, $800.

Mrs. C. S. Bomharger fell down stairs at her home on north State street and escaped with a few bruises.

Marion friends learned of the marriage of Miss Dawna Nell Biggs, a former Marion girl, and Mr. William Hayward Breard, at Los Angeles, July 7.

Miss Nellie Almendinger and Mr. Harry E. Olds were married at the residence of the bride's parents, seven miles south of Marion, by Rev. J. Bockstahler, of Bethlehem M. E. church.

The members of the O. S. S. club held a picnic at the Dunn farm, three miles southwest of this city.

Norman Thomas, son of Dr. Welling E. Thomas, spoke at the First Presbyterian church on "Slum Work in New York City."

Two heavy storms hit the city and county during the afternoon and evening, almost two inches of water falling. Four homes in Marion were struck by lightning and eight barns in various parts of the county were hit and burned. Four head of horses, four head of sheep, a cow and a number of calves were killed, at widely scattered points in the county. The furniture stock of the C. W. McClain company was damaged by water and Henry Mumford, of Girard avenue, was terribly shocked while fishing along the Little Scioto when six trees across the stream were hit at seemingly the same time. Corn was blown flat in many parts of the county.

Who's Who and Why.

REV. J. FRANK NORRIS.

Rev. J. Frank Norris, nationally known fundamentalist and revivalist, is again in the limelight, this time having killed D. E. Chipps, wealthy Fort Worth lumber dealer. Norris, who is enjoying his liberty under bail, asserts that the shot Chipps in self-defense.

The last time Rev. Mr. Norris received nationwide attention was during the Scopes evolution trial last year, when he gave religious counsel to Bryan and the prosecuting attorneys in the famous case.

The Rev. Mr. Norris has long enjoyed a reputation for "getting men." It is acknowledged that largely through his efforts six professors in southern colleges have lost their posts because they displayed too great an interest in the subject of evolution.

Dr. Norris, while still in his forties, has the largest Baptist church in the world at Fort Worth, Texas, and preaches to 5,000 and sometimes 8,000 people on Sunday. His colleagues call him the premier fighter among preachers.

Born in a small town in northern Alabama, young Norris moved at twelve with his parents to a Texas ranch near Hubbard City. It was at about that time that his father embraced religion and decided to make a preacher of the son. The boy attended Baylor college at Waco, and later the Southern Baptist university in Louisville, Kentucky, from which he was ordained.

His first church was in Dallas. In 1909 he was called to Fort Worth by the richest church in the city. His plain speaking turned almost the entire church against him and he was forced to resign. He established a church of his own, which has become the largest in the city.

In 1912 Dr. Norris was indicted for perjury and arson in connection with the burning of his church. He has always denied the charges.

Quicksands of Love

BY ADELE GARRISON

"HOW PERFECTLY DEAR"

At sight of the sunlight and spacious room which the door Lillian had flung open revealed to us Katherine caught her breath then broke into enthusiastic commendation

Oh! how perfectly dear!" she exclaimed "You girls are wizards"

I tried to see in through her unprepared eyes but Lillian and I had worked too assiduously over the transformation of that second floor to get any effect of novelty from the sight of our handiwork Yet I could not help acknowledging that in Lillian's case we had done the job to a nicety

By the judicious use of tall Japanese screens we had made the front part of the room into a snug little sitting room for Katherine and Junior with net curtains of warm golden tint at the windows that overlooked the Hudson Un nondescript collection of comforts He had unattractive chairs and couches which the room contained we had hidden beneath slip covers of gay chintz

'It's Like the Heart of a Rose'

Katherine's bed and dressing table with Junior's crib were in one screened alcove while another had been made into a playroom for my small son Pots of pansies and tulips were on brackets in the windows while a canary sang boisterously from a swinging cage

Yes were some people Lillian answered complacently But I can see one disapproving thought in your mind and I'll guess it right now These screens for the bedroom and playroom alcoves are only for use when you or Junior wish to entertain guests They do not have to be set up at any other time

I am glad to hear that Katherine returned We want every bit of this glorious sunlight we can get But the screens are lovely and they will be wonderful at night to protect us from lights and draughts

Always our optimistic Katrinka Lillian communicated laughingly Let's run along to Mary's room and see how you like that

At Your Door

Standard equipment includes
Autovacuum Windshield Cleaner, Rear View Mirror, Transmission Lock (Built in), Radiator Shutters, Motor Meter Combination Stop and Tail Light.

Many of these advantages you will recognize at a glance. But you will have higher appreciation of their meaning when you know that a plant of 18 acres which with equipment approximated a cost of $10,000,000, was first built and that special machinery had to be designed, to make possible the New Coach your dealer is now showing.

It is all steel, bolted and riveted, and so rigid that squeaks, rattles and distortions, are as unlikely as in a steel building. Doors are so hung that a man may hang on an open door while the car is being driven over rough roads, without springing it out of true.

And it is so designed and constructed as to permit the use in a totally new manner of a high-baked enamel, most lustrous and lasting finish.

There has been constant improvement in the chassis from the first Essex shipped. But only by the accumulation of the resources, the information, experience, and the skill that have resulted from the building of 350,000 Essex "Sixes" was it possible to create this car which we ask you to inspect and to drive as the best looking, best value, best Essex ever built.

THE AUTHORITY ON BRIDGE

MR FOSTER, the acknowledged authority on games, first introduced auction bridge to America. He is the author of the standard books on cards and is society's accepted teacher of bridge

Here is what Mr Foster says about Clicquot Club Ginger Ale

"At the bridge table in the best houses, I have always found a certain quiet distinction in all such details as the playing cards, the score-pads, the pencils, and the ash trays Everything in excellent taste Recently I have been forced to remark the growing popularity of Clicquot Club Pale Dry Ginger Ale on the side tables It seems as though no bridge were now complete without it Clicquot Pale Dry has delicacy, a subtlety of flavor that seems to suit to a 'T' the exacting taste of discriminating people"

Two flavors to choose from

The new Pale Dry Clicquot Club Ginger Ale is subtle and delicate The famous Golden Clicquot Club is more ginger a more vigorous drink Each comes in a bottle of generous measure at a sensible price The Clicquot Club Company Millis, Massachusetts

Reds Pound Out 6 to 4 Win Over Braves; Tribe Moves Into Tie for Second Place

Win Over Athletics Puts Indians within Striking Distance of League Leading Yankees in American League, Eddie Roush Presented with Automobile

HONORING the [illegible] of Cincinnati [illegible] tion with the [illegible] celebrated [illegible] a 6 to 4 victory over the [illegible] yesterday.

Roush was [illegible] gifts the crowd [illegible] an auto [illegible] Eddie responded [illegible] during [illegible] two innings, [illegible] used in the game.

The Reds won the game [illegible] upon the Smithy with [illegible] Hearn in the fourth when they drove out five hits and [illegible] sumed in [illegible] which the Braves were unable to overcome.

Bob Smith relieved Hearn in the fifth inning and the Indians picked away at his offerings with an ugly one [illegible] score runs in the sixth and seventh innings.

Jakie Starts Well

Little Jakie started out in a whirl wind style getting six men in order in the first three innings and allowing two hits in the first one. He weakened somewhat in the intermediate innings and the Braves pulled the latter rounds and the Braves pulled a five hit and three run rally in the eighth which caused Coach Gowdy to send to get busy with two relief pitchers down in the bull pen. Pat Ankenman responded in time and closed a nice exhibition by fanning Johnny Cooney and Leslie Mann in the ninth inning.

The Cleveland Indians went into a tie for second place with the Athletics when they shut out the Mackmen in the first game of the series at Philadelphia yesterday. The score was 6 to 0.

The Tribe win cut the lead of the Yankees down a half game as they divided a double header with the White Sox.

It took nine innings for the Clevelanders to score off Howard Ehmke ex Boston hurler but when they finally got to him in the final inning they slammed out six hits in rapid succession for [illegible] six runs and victory.

Levsen Looks Great

Emil Levsen who is turning in some of the best pitching of the season right now held the As to seven scattered hits and was in danger in only one inning, the sixth, when the Mackmen filled the bases with one out. Then Dykes forced Poole and Perkins to fly out.

The Indians are playing their last series of a very successful eastern trip. They've won nine out of 11 games taking series in succession from New York Boston and Washington and getting runs on top against Philadelphia.

The Yankees who seem to care [illegible] about whether they win or lose stretched their lead to eight games by splitting a double header with the White Sox. The Huggmen lost the opener, 4 to 3 although Ruth hit his 40th homer with two on base but won the night cap 5 to 1 by scoring four runs in the eighth.

Ruth's homer was his second in two games but he is still seven behind the record.

Detroit's great winning spurt was checked when they lost to the Senators 10 to 7 after winning the opener 7 to 6. Walter Johnson was the victim in the second game in which Mauch got a double, a triple and a [illegible]

Daily Bedtime Story

BY HOWARD GARIS

Uncle Wiggily and His Friends

...you please make me a little ...make" asked Uncle Wiggily ...fine one morning.

"Sadly would I do that, ...rabbit lady talking like a ...picture, but I must go ...now to buy a new diamond ...at the three and fourteen ...A. Nurse Jane."

...right gentleman a kid sure ...Wuzzy the muskrat lady ...her.

"You right gaddly make it ... ...sheriffcake or have you to go ...to the ten and eleven cent ...gold coal shovel?"

"Indeed I haven't!" laughed ...Jane. "And I will make you ...when you get me the straw...

"Well I do and right speedily ...so you'll spoke the rabbit ...me talking like Ivanhoe Sword ...I toward the field where many ...times nestled the red berries ...make such wonderful shortcake ...some people would rather have ...be on account of company."

Uncle Wiggily was dropping ...time he heard some little ...voices calling to him.

"...are you going, Uncle Wig... ...may we come with you?" ...going after strawberries," ...answered the bunny gentleman. ...I'll be keen such little gentle... could not belong to any bad...

And Uncle Wiggily was right, ...saw Jollie and Dollie ...the three children with ...Pickle the cousin mouse.

"Will you please take us with you ...morning," asked Jollie.

"Be very good!" promised Dollie. "...any bad chaps come I'll ...offered Squeakie Pickle the ...mouse. "But as she was only ...as large as a small spool of ...I think she would not do much ...thing except perhaps to a ...cheese.

"Come along!" invited Uncle ...swinging his basket on his paw. ...the three nice children, some ...of the grape leaves so you can ...strawberries in them."

...along with delight the four ...then scurried along after the ...gentleman who hopped slowly so ...not run away from them. ...the field Mr. Longears gave ...leaf basket for Jollie and for ...one for the cousin mouse.

"You go over there and pick the ...ries," directed the bunny, "...nothing to one side of the next ...over there," he said to Jollie, ...to another side of the bush ...Squeakie Pickle and the cousin mouse ...her part of the field with ...seemed to pick her ber... ...with me in case we had ...to pop out," said Uncle ...Wiggily, "and for well he knew ...in the field.

"I'll nibble them!" ...Pickle ...many red straw...

Uncle Wiggily and the ...children picking and pop... ...were filled. Then Mr ...said:

"Now, berries have you filled ...?" the uncle one answered.

"There ought to be lots of ...berries," said the rabbit ...I'll come and show you." And hop...ping over he pointed to the red ber...ries nestling in the green grass.

"Oh those squashed Jollie! Why ...I thought strawberries grew on ...and I was looking for a straw bush to ...pick them off. I didn't know ...berries grew on the ground."

"And I didn't either," said Jollie ...who hopped back with not a berry in ...his little basket. "Only I thought you ...said huckleberries and I was looking for ...huckleberries."

"Oh dear me! My goodness! Let me ...laugh!" chuckled the bunny. "This is ...too funny— huckleberries— and berries ...growing on a straw bush! Oh, Ha, Ha, ...Ha!" and he hugged until his funk ...nose twinkled.

Then he showed Jollie and Dollie how ...to pick the red berries from the kitten ...vines tangled in the grass and soon all ...the baskets were filled and Nurse Jane ...made a wonderful cake. And I guess ...cat doesn't use her tongue to wipe all ...the red paint off the wooden soldier's ...coat. I'll tell you next about Uncle ...Wiggily's radio.

"Where are you going, Uncle Wiggily?"

He is a poor mechanic who cannot make an excuse.

Latest Discovery Dissolves Freckles

All Gone in Four Days—They Just Melt Away

Isn't it rather odd that one discovery made almost over night will stop the worrying of millions of freckled girls and women in just a few days?

These maids and matrons have been praising for a real freckle remover for years and right now when society more than ever demands of women a skin free from blemishes and ugly brown spots Othine is discovered.

Othine is a cream—easy to apply—it will not injure the most delicate skin—but it will dissolve freckles in four days and melt them completely away leaving the skin clean, clear and soft as velvet.

And best of all Othine is not expensive—a little goes a long way. You can get it right here at Bradley's Drug Store, who guarantees it to take off every freckle or money back as do all live druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Marion-Marysville-rd to be Completed and Opened to Public Within 30 Days

North Portion Being Constructed with Macadam and South Portion with Concrete; Highway Will Handle All Springfield and Dayton Traffic

Construction work on the section of the Marion-Marysville-rd in Marion County will be completed within two weeks and will be opened to the public within 30 days, Cecil R. Lenerts, county surveyor announced today.

The north portion, being organized with macadam, will be completed within two weeks and the south portion, consisting of concrete, also will be completed at that time. The concrete must set for at least 21 days before the road is opened to traffic.

When the Marion County section of the Marion-Marysville highway is completed, an excellent road will connect the two cities for the first time in several years. A four-mile section of the highway in Union County will be closed but the detour through Richwood into Marysville is in excellent condition and carries the tourist only two miles from the direct course.

With the completion of the road, all Marion traffic to Springfield, Dayton and other points in southwestern Ohio will be routed over this road.

New Detours Opened

L. L. Rhoads of Findlay, O., contractor for the work, today said work would start at once on the new road to connect the macadamized road out of Prospect with the highway leading to Richwood. The closing of this short stretch necessitates new detours to Richwood and Marysville for the next month.

Tourists the detour led over the Goodin Hill to Prospect, a distance of two miles. A turn to the west leads to Nesmith bridge. Crossing the bridge, the tourist is directed by detour signs to make just a half of the way around to the old bound-Marysville Monument to the old bound-ary road. A turn to the right on this road. A turn to the right on this Highway take the motorist five miles west to the Richwood-Latham-rd. State Route No. 47, and a left turn at this point leads into Richwood. The entire distance covered is about 16 miles.

The highway from Richwood to Marysville is a 16-mile stretch of excellent macadamized road.

Last Surface Treating

County Surveyor Lenerts today announced that Friday would mark the last day of the surface treating campaign in the county roads. The work has been in charge of Louis Dicuet, of Tiffin.

Men today were at work on the Agosta-Mecker-rd and expected to finish the job early Friday morning.

Surface treating work has been carried on under a handicap due to the intense heat during the last few weeks. As a result of the hot sun beating upon the highways the preparation used in the surface treatment has remained sticky. This condition is being remedied as rapidly as possible.

NO ROBBERY CLEWS

No clews have been found in the robbery of the Boston Chain Store, N. Main-st, Tuesday noon, when six shirts and several pair of trousers were taken, it is alleged, by two negroes, one of whom engaged the clerk in conversation while the other took the goods.
